If you've recently been laid off, or have concern that you might soon be laid off, there are powerful things you can do to improve your chances of finding another job. I've been on both sides of the "laid off" scenario. I've had to let people go, and I've been let go. I tell my own stories of being laid off, and how I went on very successfully from there, but more importantly, I share the technology I developed in my book, The Science of Making Things Happen: Turn Any Possibility into Reality, a clearcut guide to applying today's latest discoveries in a variety of sciences—quantum physics, neurology, biology—to amplifying your dreamed of possibilities into reality.

In this easily digestible guide, you will learn how to overcome fear and move past other negative emotions; get yourself aligned with your intentions; show up in a relevant and you-must-have-me way; create a tsunami of opportunity; break the present to make room for the future, and create confidence so strong it will become your armor, no matter what the outside world is showing you.
