This book is an integral part of the “GeSt Package” that consists of the “Concepts”, “Practices” and “Questions” books. The purpose of the “GeSt Package” is to ease the learning of network administration in a modern, non-traditional way. • The “Concepts” book offers a gradual, fast, and deep learning of network technologies implemented in VMware Server and Windows Server software. • The “Practices” book offers exercises for adoption of practical network administration skills through the setup of a complex virtual network-testing lab. • The “Questions” online book offers quizzes for self-evaluating the level of obtained knowledge and preparing for the MCTS/MCITP and other certifications exams. • After using these books, the reader will have a core theoretical knowledge of Windows-based network administration technology and a practical VMware-based network-testing lab that can be easily expanded in further learning and practicing activities.
